Source: The statistics in this report are compiled by Fairfax County Department of Housing and Community Development. Figures include information received from the Virginia Housing Development Authority and nonprofits.

<sup>1</sup>Units are considered to have modest/affordable rent when units in a property have (or had) average rents, including utilities, affordable to households with incomes up to 70 percent of the Metropolitan Statistical Area median adjusted by household size.

** Island Walk was originally developed as a limited equity cooperative serving low income households. The property was threatened by extensive deterioration and deferred maintenance and consideration was given to complete demolition and redevelopment of the property. Demolition was avoided through the assistance of the County, the FCRHA and the purchase of the property by the non-profit CPDC. While the property no longer is a cooperative, it has been extensively rehabilitated, renovated and preserved as long term affordable housing.

<sup>2</sup>Units Preserved: HCD considers units preserved when the transfer of ownership has occurred, where financing has closed and where affordability is anticipated for a given amount of time. The date indicates the date of closing. Units are considered to have short-term affordability when they are preserved for five years and under; long-term affordability is over five years.

Homeownership may be included when related to preservation, however anything built, proffered or ADUs for sale by developers through the First-Time Homebuyer program would not be considered preservation for the purposes of this report. Units were preserved with financial or technical assistance, agreement or negotiation by the Department of Housing and Community Development or Fairfax County Redevelopment and Housing Authority.

FCRHA purchase of ADU's are considered preservation because units are preserved that would otherwise be sold off to the market in 15 years. In the ADU scenario, the FCRHA did not build the units, simply bought them, for preservation purposes.

<sup>3</sup>Units in the Pipeline for Preservation: HCD considers units in the preservation pipeline to be those that are in the process of being preserved, where final transfer has not taken place, but where the FCRHA or Board of Supervisors has approved an item relating to the project.

<sup>4</sup>Nonprofits: Nonprofits that are general partners of a tax credit limited partnership are considered nonprofit for the purposes of this report.
